

Mikki Daniel
and TEXAS Wildfire

Award winning Mikki Daniel had always dreamed of having her own swing band, and in 2013 she began piecing together members to form a groovy sound unique to the vintage style she'd heard and loved growing up. While it is unusual enough to find young players who are familiar with western swing, big band and jazz from the '20s-'50s, she was lucky enough to meet and perform with some fine young Texas talent who also shared her passion for those eras. Like Louis Armstrong said: "there are only two kinds of music: the good kind, and the other kind...I play the good kind".

And, so do these young cats.

Mikki Daniel and Texas Wildfire can range from a swingy, electric duo or an excitingly tight trio, to a well-versed and impressive young-blooded 6-piece. They've been described by performers of note as "a hot young swing sound", "modern 40's dynamite", "classy, sassy swing" and "the kids hip enough to bring vintage back." While they cover old classic cowboy crooners, silky smooth Sinatra, and a shnazzy jazz tune here and there, most of the songs they dance around with are swing and western swing songs--some classics, some not-so-well-known. Their common love for good music has intertwined and passions have grown, and audiences everywhere are delighted and wowed by their performances.

No matter what YOUR personal musical preference or affiliation is, it is guaranteed that if you take a listen to Mikki Daniel & Texas Wildfire, you will quickly become a new fanatic!

Booking:

Phone: 214-532-8010

email: Mikki@MikkiDaniel.com

website: www.MikkiDaniel.com

www.TexasWildfire.com